HOW MUCH LONGER WILL MY JOB LAST?

FROM NOW ON—AND I'LL TELL YOU WHY...

"PULPWOOD is a business with a great peacetime future. The pulp and paper industry hasn't any re-conversion problem. It can start in today producing the things all the civilians and returning service men are hungry for. And before we even get caught up on the backlog orders, the new uses that have developed during the war will be calling for more and more pulpwood. Your job is just as sure as any job could be, and if you have any friends getting out of the service or out of war plants, tell them there are plenty of jobs in pulpwood—healthy, outdoor jobs with good pay and as much security as you can expect anywhere."

CALL TO FARMS!

CROP CORPS

VICTORY in Europe has not decreased the demand for food. Volunteers are needed to help harvest every pound of our war crops—nothing must be wasted. Last year, millions of people with no experience in farm work volunteered to help farmers harvest vital war crops. This year, farm goals call for a lowering rate of production—and it can be reached only with the willing help of millions more like you. You'll be paid for your time, of course. The work will not be too strenuous for you. If you can spend the summer, or a month, or even your vacation period on a farm—apply to your county agent or local farm employment office. If you can work on a farm in spare time, or week ends, watch for announcements of local emergencies in your community.

Lawn Mowers—Prewar Versus Postwar

Will Curry isn't falling for those pictures of a postwar life of ease. He was sweating over his lawn mower the other day when somebody shows him pictures of a mower that runs under its own power.

"Thanks," says Will, "I like a lawn mower that gives you some backtalk and exercise. It gets the old blood circulating and works up a wonderful thirst. Then," Will adds with zest, "there's nothing in the whole world that tastes as good as a cheerful glass of beer!"

From where I sit, there's a lot of good sense in what Will says. A little honest effort never hurt anybody. And there should be more to our post-war plans than how to make life comfortable and easy.

Outdoor work—work you do with your hands and your back—ought to be part of everybody's post-war plans. And on a hot day, as Will says, there's always that sparkling glass of beer as a reward!

SERVICE WITH HONOR

For their untold sacrifices, for their unswerving devotion to the cause of freedom and human rights, America owes a sacred, everlasting debt of gratitude to her fighting forces who have won glorious Victory.

For those members of the Norfolk and Western Family who gave their lives for their country, we bow our heads in reverent tribute. Theirs was honorable service in full.

The Honorable Service Emblem illustrated above is being seen more and more around Norfolk and Western shops, on train crewmen, in offices, and along the right of way. It is an emblem of distinction, for it identifies those who have rendered honorable military service to their country.

Nearly 500 of the 4,600 odd Norfolk and Western employees who entered the armed forces have returned to their railroad jobs. We are mighty happy to have them back, and to each of them we say:

"We have missed you. We are proud of you. Welcome home!"

Now, with those who are exchanging uniforms of military service for the uniforms of railroad service, we will work together for a new and better world—a world in which we shall strive for a strong, lasting Peace and good will among mankind.
